As an undergraduate student, I find career planning a bit daunting and something too far in the future. I don't know what I want to do after I finish University and as I'm Dyslexic, I find organising my thoughts and planning to be a bit messy and then I procrastinate! So, I have used Man Met's Attributes to help me instead. I have picked three competencies to work on and now I'm exploring how to action these. This approach feels more manageable for me, and I'm actually feeling quite excited at the thought of trying something new and meeting new people too.
